DEDICATION

Daniel D. Boone

In recognition of the understanding and inspiration he has given us, we, the class of 1967, dedicate this Green and Gold Yearbook to Mr. Daniel Boone.

Poised and distinguished in bearing, friendly and tolerant, Mr. Boone has instilled in each of us a true appreciation of honor and knowledge. Through the high ideals he has practiced in his classes, he has prepared us to become the leaders of tomorrow.

Superintendent's Message

Dear Seniors:

In education today would you say that emphasis is placed primarily on what, and how much, you learn? Have we not been "hit" by the "knowledge explosion" almost as though it were an atomic one? Perhaps it is, in a way, quite similar.

Important technical problems remain. We aren't yet ready to blast men off to the moon--but we are so much closer than we were in 1960!

We have medical problems to solve, too. Cancer, heart ailments, cerebral palsy, arthritis, to name a few, have not been conquered. On the other hand polio, tuberculosis, scarlet fever, cholera--these are at long last controllable. Persistence, imagination and advancing knowledge have produced cures, jets, t. v. , man-made satellites!

May your generation be the first to apply the greatness within mankind to the diligent, imaginative pursuit of peace, to the solving of problems between brothers, neighbors, races, nations. Technical progress without peace is hollow accomplishment indeed. The knowledge we need to "explode" is in the education of our hearts even more than in our minds.

Here is a vital need crying out for your attention, your wholehearted acceptance! I commend it to you, and wish you success.

Sincerely,
Geoffrey Graham
Superintendent

Principal's Message

Congratulations to the class of 1967! During the three years I have been with you, I have seen the members of this class contribute a great deal to the life and welfare of the school. Many activities at West Rutland High School have been made richer and better through your efforts in the classroom, in athletics and in the social life of the school!

As students at West Rutland High School you have developed many attitudes and skills, and it is our fondest hope that you constantly improve on these. In this way you will be a contributor throughout your life to the communities in which you live and a real success in the career you may choose.

"MEET UNCLE SALLY"

CLASS SONG

The class of '67 unfolds
Our faith and love so bright
The standards high that it upholds
Are the ideals of our might.
Our '67 you'll always find
Faithful, loyal, true throughout our life
Our Green and Pink will bind
Thoughts of our classes' toil and strife.

The day of parting now is here
And we must say good-bye
To all our friends and classmates dear
And to West Rutland High.
As day by day our tasks unfold
Your teachings we will keep in mind
And loyal to the Green and Gold
Our faith in thee you'll always find.

CHORUS

Ever we'll serve our high school
Loyal to her and true
Her colors tell us the classes' story
Of lofty dreams that toil made true.
Our teachers bid us to scorn all shirking
Study at duty's call
That for the future working
Our present makes the good of all.

Words and Music---Elizabeth Peterson, Laura Pilch
Francis Cecot, Carl Wener

CLASS POEM

Together we stand capped and gowned
Inspired with thoughts of tommorow.
Our destinies, yet to be found,
Are faced with challenge and sorrow.

We stand here so proud, yet so humble tonight
Realizing our moment is nigh.
Each boy and each girl are suddenly finding
That they are about to cry.

How could we perceive such a moment as this,
When fate and emotions meet?
Embracing memories that cannot be missed
The challenging world at our feet.

Take a look, dear classmates, at each other
And realize what you see,
For the friend sitting beside you
So near might never be!

PROPHECY

'Twas the night before graduation

And all through the house

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

Class president Tom was snug in his bed

With visions of our class' future dancing in his head.

In this dream, he saw himself in the year 1996 as President of these United States, about to board his private jet on a good will tour of the world. The plane was piloted by Kamikaze (Elaine) Kapitan and Demolition (Gloria) Deo.

His first stop was Madrid, Spain, where he attended a bull fight between the bull and Bill Powers. Bill dedicated his bull to senhorita Maria Baldwindaz, who is the sweetheart of Spain.

After crossing the border he went to Paris, France. Our president visited the famous museum, the Louvre, where he viewed many commemorative statues. The first statue was a tribute to Lenore Wasik and Angela Muro, who were originators of the newest dance craze, the "Marble Minuet".

Judy Zuk had on display her world famous "Decorated Garbage Cans". Her next great project will be to paint the town sewer pink.

Becoming hungry, he stopped at a Cafe which was owned and operated by Monsieur Ronnie Johnston. He ordered lunch from Kan-Kan Kulitski, formerly known as Marianne Kulig, and Ou La La Libuda, known in America as Red Libby.

After finishing lunch, he remembered that he promised to purchase a Paris original for his charming wife, Lady Bird Lorraine Fuller. As Tom entered the Salon de Lori, he was approached by the owner Mlle. Laura Pilch, who invited him to view her Fall fashion collection. The fashion commentator was the famous Ralph Johnson, who has spent years on the Riviera studying the latest fashions. He announced the first model to be Jean Budnicki who was modeling the newest Fall mode, a fig-leaf coat which is part of the "Adam and Eve" look. Next on the program was Barbara Kaszuba who modeled the newest craze for the jet set--diamond-studded hair rollers. Because he was pressed for time, Tom hurriedly purchased a mink-trimmed sweat shirt for Lady Bird and dashed to his plane.

Crossing the English Channel into London, England, he was invited to tea by Queen Elizabeth Peterson and King

Louis Glodzik. They had arranged a command performance in Tom's honor, which was given by Mogin David and the Grapes of Wrath, a top band in England composed of Carl Wener, Frank Cecot, and Richard Orzell.

Thanking the royal couple for their hospitality, Mr. President departed for Stockholm, Sweden, to attend the Nobel Prize Presentations. For her success in the Perfection of the Human Male, Miss Christine Hyjek was awarded the Nobel Prize in Medicine. Through the use of hormones she transformed Leo Carvey into a man equal to the combination of Tarzan, Albert Einstein, and Richard Burton.

The Nobel Prize in Literature is shared by Theresa Higgins, Susan Orzell, and Steve Rosmus for their best-selling novel, the DEATH OF A PROPHECY.

Because of her extensive work in sound transmission and her development of a early warning system, Mary Lou Heleba was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

Next stop, Switzerland! Thinking himself due for a rest, Tom went to a ski resort owned by Christine Brytowski and her husband, John Farrell. Here he took skiing lessons from the Olympic Gold Medal Winners, Julie Wasik and Mike Belock. While skiing Tom met international cover girl Christine Sitek, whose picture is currently on the cover of Boys' Life. She invited him to her party at the ski lodge. Among the personalities present was the millionaire gambler, Rick Sabatino, who made his money by cheating at Old Maid. Also attending this gala affair was Martha Sutkoski, a news correspondent who is covering the President's Good Will Tour.

After the party, Tom departed for Rome, Italy, to attend the World Premiere of the Italian film, "Mama Mia", featuring the romantic Italian stars, Joanne Mirti, Antonio Caporale, and an American actress, Kathy Hepburn. The film will be directed by the accomplished Tom Dzuibek. This film concerns the fate of a beautiful young grape presser who is destined to live a life with ugly purple feet until she is rescued by a dashing young gondola salesman.

As he left the theatre Tom happened to meet four of his former classmates. The Welch twins, Greg and Geoff, it seemed, had finally caught a couple of beauties, namely the Fish twins, Martha and Marsha. Working as husband-wife construction team, they had undertaken the job of straightening out the leaning Tower of Pisa. Their wedding ceremony was performed by Father Henry Kantorski, who had given up all the wordly pleasures to devote his life to humanity. The nun soloist was Sister Dianne Gilligan, who has finally gotten what she wanted--a white collar job.

Traveling north to Siberia Tom visited a salt mine. The foreman of the mine was Tom Bioty. Under his gentle loving care was the women's workforce, which had dwindled to only two starving females--Patty Broza and Tina Pokrywka. They were condemned to this hole in the ground for playing Tiddle-ly-Winks in Red Square.

President Tom then left for Australia to inspect a U. S. rocket tracking station. While there he inquired as to the fate of the space ship named the Three Seater Rockette. The ship was manned by three women--Cathy Grabowski, Pauline Oscielowski, and Leona Tyminski. They reported that upon landing on Venus, they discovered that Jack Baron had stowed himself away on the ship. The rest is left to your imagination.

As a sentimental part of his trip, President Pawlusiak visited his old Alma Mater, Kangaroo U., the dean of which is Horatio Weaver. The college is lucky enough to have as its guidance counselor, Claire White who has had much experience in the guidance departments.

Planning to meet his wife, Lorraine, in Hawaii for a brief vacation, he left Australia. They, the President and his wife, were the guests of honor at a Hawaiian luau sponsored by King Mike McDevitt. They were entertained by a Polynesian Princess Patty Burris. She performed an exotic hula dance. (The pineapple for the feast had been donated by the Art Squier--Charlie Dikeman Pineapple Plantation, the President was informed by King McDevitt. Their slogan is "Who says Squier-Dikeman pineapples taste good like a pineapple should?" and if you don't believe this, dial HAW-1967.)

His final stop was New York City where he and Lady Bird attended the opening of the Broadway play, "The Odd Couple", starring Helen Wilkins and Frank Oscielowski.

On their way to the hotel the President purchased an evening paper, the DAILY DIRT, edited by Andy McGrath. The paper contained a feature article on the P. T. A. (People Terrorizing Association), a gang that was terrorizing New York. The leader of this notorious mob was Mugger McCormack and his gun moll, Pick-Pocket Paula (Trepanier). Other members of this pack were Babyface Brown and Get-a-away Gilmore.

Another article which drew his attention concerned two demonstrators from Greenwich Village, Jinks Jagodzinski and Buckey Jankowski. They started a riot by burning their Boy Scout membership cards in opposition to square knots.

A ringing sound awakened president Tom from this dream and brought him back to the world of reality. Yet this dream made him realize what a tremendous effect his graduating class of 1967 would have on the future of the world.

THE WILL AND TESTAMENT

of the Class of 1967

We, the class of 1967, in due accordance with the laws of precedence of the former graduating classes of West Rutland High School, do establish the following as our class will and testament.

MARIE BALDWIN bequeaths her place in Mr. Russell's heart to anyone who needs it.

JOHN BARON wills his position in the heart of Miss Bliss to anyone who can fulfill the joys and raptures that she deserves.

MICHAEL BELOCK wills his skiing abilities to all the skiers of the Junior Class.

THOMAS BIOTY bequeaths his position as Miss Hinchey's secretary to anyone who enjoys continuous work.

MORTIMER BROWN wills his typing ability to anyone who thinks he can make as many mistakes per minute as she did.

PATRICIA BROZA wills Bobby Turner six inches of her height. That is all she can spare. Sorry, Bob!

CHRISTINE BRYTOWSKI bequeaths her driving ability in her white "Chevy" to her sister. Take care of that clutch, Marcia.

JEAN BUDNICKI wills her typing erasers to her two cousins, Elaine and Sissy. We sure hope you two won't have to use them as much as Jean did.

To Crystal Trepanier, PATRICIA BURRIS wills her bass drum hammer. We hope, Crystal, that you have as much fun as she did.

ANTHONY CAPORALE wills all his car troubles to Bob Dion. (Bob, you've got enough of your own, haven't you?)

LEO CARVEY wills John McGann his church key. Will you find use for it, Chuck?

FRANCIS CECOT leaves Mr. Kane to all the girls. Proceed quickly and claim your gift, girls.

GLORIA DEO wills her Phys. Ed. uniform to Mrs. Johnson, who, she thinks, should have a little fun and exercise.

CHARLES DIKEMAN wills Wayne Amado all his brains. Good luck, Wayne!

THOMAS DZUIBEK wills his almost exclusive ownership of the family car to his family.

JOHN FARRELL wills Ronnie Johnston an automatic transmission. Maybe now he'll have better luck.

To Mr. Gibbud, MARSHA FISH wills all the frogs, tadpoles, crayfish and anything else he wants in the pond.

MARTHA FISH wills to her sister Mary, all the fun she had in Phys. Ed. class.

LORRAINE FULLER bequeaths the four great years in high school to her brother, Bill. Take advantage of them, Bill, you'll need them!

DIANNE GILLIGAN wills Mrs. McVeigh's English classes her sister, Audrey. Here's hoping you learn something from those classes.

KENNETH GILMORE leaves all his books to his brother, Pete, so he can make a big profit by selling them for a dollar to Mr. Timbers.

LOUIS GLODZIK wills his abilities in the mailing industry to Bob Geryk and Tom Kantorski, who appreciate Mr. Russell as much as he did.

To Mary Dion, CATHERINE GRABOWSKI wills her majorette ability, but on one condition, don't goof as much as she did.

MARY LOU HELEBA wills her uncontrollable temper and big mouth to Anne Marie Jakubowski with sincere hope that she can tame them down.

KATHY HEPBURN wills her sister her seat in homeroom because it's closest to the door.

THERESA HIGGINS wills four years of homework, eyestrain, frustration and insomnia to anyone who will enjoy them as much as she did.

CHRISTINE HYJEK wills her position on the Monitor Squad to anyone who enjoys "bossing" people around.

FRANCIS JAGODZINSKI bequeaths part of his height to Bob Smyrski who is in desperate need of it.

To Anthony Reczek, STANLEY JANKOWSKI wills his ability to catch passes and to run for touchdowns. But don't trip on that one yard line, Tony.

RALPH JOHNSON bequeaths his trusty car to anyone that wants to push it to the nearest junk yard.

RONALD JOHNSTON bequeaths his air-conditioned football shoes to Tom Sankowski so that he will be able to run faster.

HENRY KANTORSKI leaves his football shoes to the person who stole them, and his green football socks to his brother Ronnie, with the guarantee not to ever get a broken toe while using them.

ELAINE KAPITAN wills her Phys. Ed. uniform to her brother, Chucky? She dares you to wear it!

BARBARA KASZUBA wills her seat in Typing Class and especially her eraser to anyone who uses it as much as she did.

MARIANNE KULIG bequeaths all the fun she had in high school to her brother, Mike. She hopes you will have as much fun at Westside as she did.

JUDITH LIBUDA wills Bobby Drzewiczski to Mr. Kane and a place in Mr. Kane's heart to Mary Breznik.

PATRICK McCORMICK wills Coach Shappy, a real great guy, to the underclassmen who are fortunate enough to make the varsity basketball team next year.

MICHAEL McDEVITT wills all his fun times in English class to Jim Lundrigan.

ANDRIAN MEGRATH wills his editorship of the school newspaper to Thomas Blicharz and to "Cookie" Jakubowski his spot in Mrs. McVeigh's heart.

JOANNE MIRTI bequeaths her gym suit to Mrs. Johnson. It was getting way too big for her anyhow!

ANGELA MURO leaves her majorette boots to any in-coming majorette who wants sore feet.

RICHARD ORZELL wills all his homework to anyone who can use it.

SUSAN ORZELL wills to her sister, Peggy Ann, Mr. Boone's well-learned instructions on how to adequately prepare and deliver a successful oral talk.

To Edward Hanson FRANK OSCIELOWSKI wills his ability to hit trailer trucks. Good Luck, Ed!

PAULINE OSCIELOWSKI leaves her position as Mr. Russell's secretary to her sister, Sandra. It's really worth it!

THOMAS PAWLUSIAK bequeaths his position as class president to a future senior, Tom Kantorski and a future junior, Bob Geryk. It might do something for you, maybe.

ELIZABETH PETERSON wills Mr. Kane to any zoo that has a sturdy cage.

LAURA PILCH leaves her seat in General Chemistry to any student that is interested in studying.

CHRISTINE POKRYWKA wills Mr. William Timbers to anyone who appreciates "mass confusion".

WILLIAM POWERS wills Martin Pendriss a radar set so that when he goes to work next time he can see a car coming broadside.

STEPHEN ROSMUS wills the Nobel Prize for literature to the 1967 Yearbook Staff.

PATRICK SABATINO wills his ability to forsee to Carole Thrall.

CHRISTINE SITEK leaves her books, locker, and long walk every day to her sister, Sally. Hope Sally enjoys them as much as she did.

ARTHUR SQUIER wills his white hair to Coach Loprete. He has enough now and he may have more before he leaves his beloved Westside.

MARTHA SUTKOSKI wills her poetry to anyone with a keen sense of understanding--namely, her sister, Veronica.

PAULA TREPANIER bequeaths her dimples to Mr. Zawistoski. We sure hope that he gets as much use out of them as she did.

To Mary Breznik LEONA TYMINSKI wills her auburn tresses--please everybody lock up your scissors.

JULIANNA WASIK wills all the stupid things she has said and done in the last four years to all the underclassmen.

LENORE WASIK wills her head majorette's position to Judy Grabowski with hope that she brings her plastic bag for her hat whenever it rains.

HORATIO WEAVER wills his glasses to Robert Turner so that he can see the stop signs.

To Jebbo GEOFFREY WELCH wills his ability to keep out of the teacher's hair. You know you shouldn't run them down so!

GREGORY WELCH wills his ability as half-back position on the football team to the next Jim Brown of the century, Pury (Leo Trepanier). He needs all the help he can get.

CARL WENER wills his pessimism to anybody who can stand living in such a rotten state of mind.

CLAIRE WHITE wills her ability to put her foot in her mouth to Art Squier with Lots of Luck.

HELEN WILKINS wills her mathematical ability in General Science to anyone who can prove there are four pints in a quart.

JUDY ZUK wills her brother, John, to Mrs. McVeigh. Good Luck to the both of you.

Lorraine Fuller
Christine Hyjek
Thomas Bioty

CLASS PASTIMES

Marie Baldwin--could always be found either working or throwing swinging parties.

John Baron--spent his time hunting and trying to convince Mrs. McVeigh that he was a great kid and deserved to pass English.

Michael Belock--was a member of the junior ski patrol which gave him the privilege of not having to go to the end of the lift line.

Thomas Bioty--spent most of his time typing the Green and Gold and then washing his hands to remove all his ink marks.

Mort Brown--always seemed to have his homework done. It must be nice to have a teacher as a mother.

Patty Broza--was one of our good actresses. When she wasn't learning her parts for a play, she was practicing her cheering.

Christine Brytowski--since Chris got her license she has been terrorizing the town.

Jean Budnicki--spent her time causing problems between the Russells.

Patty Burris--devoted her time to her job at Sevigny's. What was your motive, Pat?

Tony Caporale--was always having a good time even though he had a wild way of doing it.

Leo Carvey--enjoyed taking in the various pleasures of the world.

Francis Cecot--spent all of his time raising ducks. How's Peaches, Frank? Probably dead, right?

Gloria Deo--loved square dancing. You had some great times with Eddie, too, didn't you Gloria?

Charles Dikeman--A true outdoorsman, he hunted everything that was huntable.

Thomas Dzuibek--spent what little spare time he had doing what came natural--absolutely nothing!

John Farrell--was always driving from Ira to West Rutland and back to Ira again.

Marsha Fish--when Marsha wasn't studying, she was accomplishing amazing feats in Phys. Ed.

Martha Fish--spent her time making friends and riding horses.

Lorraine Fuller--beat a steady path between Proctor and the Club House. Must have been quite interesting, huh, Lorraine?

Dianne Gilligan--kept Lady Clairol and Cover Girl in business.

Kenneth Gilmore--spent his nights and days in seclusion in Tinnmouth, mainly because of a lack of transportation.

Louis Glodzick--could usually be seen either with the boys or demonstrating his great athletic skill.

Cathy Grabowski--was Mr. Boone's secretary. We wonder if that is why she was always smiling.

Mary Lou Heleba--spent her time talking, arguing, and complaining.

Kathy Hepburn--although she was considered quiet, Kathy was our authority on horses.

Theresa Higgins--didn't do anything spectacular, but she did enjoy arguing about unimportant details in the yearbook.

Chris Hyjek--was always trying to scheme up some new wild way of having fun.

Francis Jagodzinski--among other things, Frank could usually be found sitting on Seigny's steps.

Stanley Jankowski--spent his time sleeping and trying to avoid all of his female admirers.

Ralph Johnson--spent his time with Betty. We know how much you two enjoyed each other's company.

Ronnie Johnston--spent half of his time fixing his car and the other half inside of it. What were you doing in there?

Henry Kantorski--spent his time with Joanne or riding his Honda.

Barbara Kaszuba--spent most of her time being quiet except when she was talking to Marianne.

Elaine Kapitan---could often be found working in the family store or conversing with Pauline.

Marianne Kulig--spent her time telling everyone about the Grand Happening at the Track. (A really great experience.) We hope all of you use Listerine, too.

Judy Libuda--spent her time maintaining her reputation as class pest.

Pat McCormack--Pat spent most of his time in the cemetery vault or hunting. He even claimed to be a great basketball player.

Michael McDevitt--worked at Ducky's and could always be seen with Jinks.

Andy McGrath--traveled back and forth to his classes in Rutland and was always reading NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC magazines.

Joanne Mirti--spent most of her spare time following Henry around.

Angela Muro--practiced twirling her baton. You hardly ever dropped it, right, Angie?

Richard Orzell--did all of his homework and made sure that the rest of the boys did theirs, too.

Susan Orzell--sold bubble gum at the store to all of the good little boys and girls in our class.

Frank Osciowski--spent his time smashing into trailer trucks. You always did get a thrill out of that, didn't you Frank?

Pauline Osciowski--spent most of her time driving the family car and typing for Mr. Russell.

Thomas Pawlusiak--Tom spent his time sneaking around the local parking places trying to find some interesting scenes.

Betty Ann Peterson--spent her time singing and playing the guitar for Jimmy.

Laurie Pilch--had quite a talent for sewing and made most of her own clothes.

Tina Pokrywka--carried her tape-recorder around and blackmailed people afterwards. Watch what you say when Tina is around or you won't hear the last of it.

William Powers--enjoyed hunting coons at night, but what he did in the daytime is still a mystery.

Steve Rozmus--makes donuts and was dreaming about his future career as a doctor most of his time. Lots of Luck!

Patrick Sabatino--devoted his excess time to the task of collecting rare pennies. You'd be surprised how much he would pay for a penny.

Christine Sitek--spent most of her time earning medals in 4-H club and working in the local theaters.

Arthur Squier--spent his time in Timmouth combing his hair. Art worried quite a bit about those gray hairs of his.

Martha Sutkowski--sang in the church choir for a long time, but we all know that she was no churchmouse.

Paula Trepanier--Kept a variety of boys on the string. We wonder how you ever got away with that, Paula!

Leona Tyminski--spent all of her time talking about Freddie.

Julie Wasik--spent her time skiing and putting things off for a better time.

Lenore Wasik--divided her time among her many activities--majoretting, dancing, and Michael.

Horatio Weaver--It seems that our Horatio spends most of his time eating and sleeping, but we know better than that. Horatio had a well-rounded personality.

Geof Welch--always told wild stories to whomever was lucky enough to be told them.

Greg Welch--spent his time playing the part of the all-time football hero--and that he really was!

Carl Wener--spent his time being a firefighter--always putting out old flames and starting new ones to keep him busy.

Claire White--started out to do many things, but by the time she got there someone else usually beat her to it.

Helen Wilkins--when Helen wasn't working, she was usually at the Club House.

Judy Zuk--Judy was always trying to find something witty to say, but she usually ended up saying funnier things than she had meant to say.

Angela Muro
Julianna Wasik
Thomas Dzuibek

CLASS PRESENTATIONS

MARIE BALDWIN--A party punch bowl. You sure had some good punches at your parties.

JOHN BARON--A white elephant gun. We hope it doesn't get away.

MICHAEL BELOCK and LENORE WASIK--Two sets of dancing shoes, so that in your separate paths you will always be in step.

THOMAS BIOTY--A bongo drum--here is your chance to be one of the natives.

MORTIMER BROWN--A toy watch set at 7:30 A.M. to remind you of your many early hours spent at school.

PATTY BROZA, JEAN BUDNICKI, PATTY BURRIS, and CHRIS HYJEK--Four bottles of Apple Blossom to keep you as sweet as you are.

CHRISTINE BRYTOWSKI--A gold candle to symbolize your bit of light in the future.

TONY CAPORALE--A new supply of cars to keep you well equipped in years to come.

LEO CARVEY and CHARLES DIKEMAN--Two miniture buses in memory of your many rides to Rutland for shop.

FRANCIS CECOT--A tie to add to your wide selection of smart clothes.

GLORIA DEO--A collection of rings because you always had an admirer.

THOMAS DZUIBEK--We present you a pair of genuine elastic suspenders to keep up your football pants.

JOHN FARRELL--A tractor to remind you of the miles you've driven one around your farm.

MARSHA FISH and MARTHA FISH--A Westside banner to symbolize your great school spirit.

LORRAINE FULLER--A lace handkerchief to help lure your victims.

DIANNE GILLIGAN--To our glamour girl, a cosmetic set which, we know, you'll use artistically.

KENNETH GILMORE--To the quietest boy of our class, a bell so we'll know when you're around.

LOUIS GLODZIK and HENRY KANTORSKI--Two coins to bring back memories of the toss-ups at the football games.

CATHY GRABOWSKI--For the babysitter of our class, a training commode. We hope it comes in handy.

MARY LOU HELEBA--Every class treasurer deserves to spend some of his own money. We present you with some spending money.

KATHY HEPBURN--Your riding days will never be forgotten when you look at your little toy horse.

THERESA HIGGINS--A peace pipe to make up for all the disagreements over the yearbook.

FRANCIS JAGODZINSKI--What your name meant through our high school years is symbolized by this rabbit's foot.

STANLEY JANKOWSKI and CLAIRE WHITE--To keep you running on time, two timers which will never let you down.

RALPH JOHNSON--Ralph could go nowhere without his "pussycat". Here is a blue pussy cat to keep you both company.

RONNIE JOHNSTON--To keep you always in commission, we present you a purple car.

ELAINE KAPITAN--A can of 3-in-1 oil to lubricate your joints from the long walks home from school.

BARBARA KASZUBA--An address book to help you keep in touch with your friends made at W.R.H.S.

MARIANNE KULIG--A John Brush to bring back your days at the Track.

JUDY LIBUDA--A toy clown because you were our little clown. We hope you always keep your happy ways.

PATRICK McCORMACK--A deck of basketball cards. Too bad you didn't have them during all the games at which you sat on the bench.

MICHAEL McDEVITT -A pillow to make your sitting days on Seigny's porch more comfortable.

ADRIAN MEGRATH--An all-purpose truck. Every town manager's son needs one.

JOANNE MIRTİ--A pink telephone because you could always make such great connections.

ANGELA MURO--A mini skirt to go with your ballet shoes and majorette boots.

RICHARD ORZELL--For your grand coin collection we present you with a coin folder.

SUSAN ORZELL--To help you in your future career, here's a professional nursing kit.

FRANCIS OSCIELOWSKI--A joke book so that you'll always keep laughing.

PAULINE OSCIEWLOWSKI--Some personal-size Ivory to help wash away those carbon ink spots.

THOMAS PAWLUSIAK--A megaphone. You never were heard at our class meetings.

BETTY PETERSON--A Gold Star because with your many talents you always came through.

LAURA PILCH--A protractor and a compass from the mechanical drawing class. Always handy, always useful.

CHRISTINE POKRYWKA--A variety of candies to reimburse you for all that you handed out during your last four years.

WILLIAM POWERS--A book of logarithms. You never could get them straight.

STEVE ROSMUS--To help you zoom to your goals, a genuine U.S. space rocket.

PATRICK SABITINO--To the artistic boy of our class, a set of water paints.

CHRISTINE SITEK--A pair of roller skates, to keep you on the go.

ARTHUR SQUIER--To our champion dairyman, we present a sterling silver cup.

MARTHA SUTKOSKI--A bottle of black hair coloring. We never saw you in black.

PAULA TREPANIER--A super-duper jeep. What can we say? What can we say?

LEONA TYMINSKI--To put a few more inches on your height, wear these red high heels in memory of W.R.H.S.

JULIE WASIK--A mirror and comb set of your own. We know it will be put to good use.

HORATIO WEAVER--A football helmet to remind you of your "crash days" on the Westside football field.

GEOFF WELCH--An assignment pad, you sure used enough of them in high school.

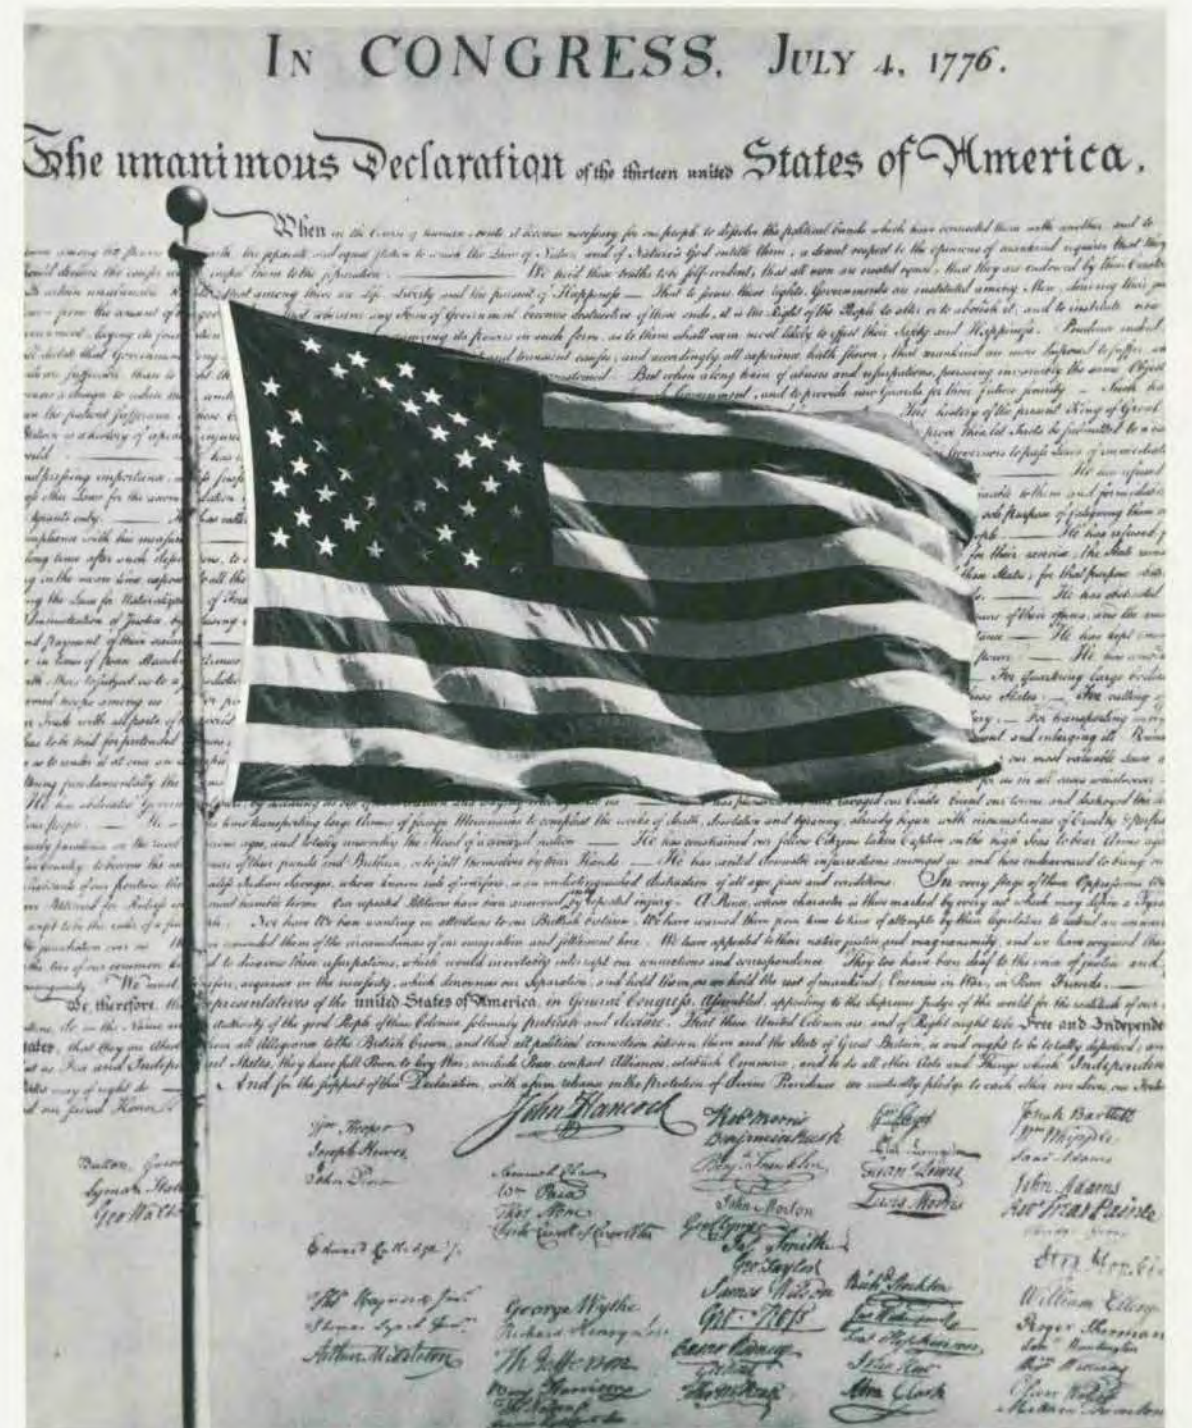

GREG WELCH--An honorary football. Remember those touchdown days!

CARL WENER--A miniture guitar. You really could strum up a good tune.

HELEN WILKINS--A stuffed turtle. It never made it to school on time either.

JUDY ZUK--A beach ball to remind you of your days at the playground.

Claire White
Paula Trepanier
Michael Belock
